It was a great pleasure having Mariia join us this Autumn in the office. She has been a tremendous asset, contributing to a number of projects as well as the overall studio environment.

Mariia has supported me on a number of projects I've been working across: Dairy Road, a 100,000sqm landscape-led commercial masterplan in Canberra, Australia; a shortlisted competition to design a new recycling centre for the city of Zurich in Switzerland; and a competition for a new masterplan for a Cambridge college.

Mariia has shown great skill in every task that she has been asked to undertake. Her modelmaking is careful and deliberate, and she's helped us make a very fine 1:500 model of the Canberra scheme, as well as an enormous 1:33 for the Zurich competition. As well as being a fine modelmaker she worked well with the teams on these projects to coordinate her work, which was particularly important for the Zurich competition where we were tight for time.

As well as skilled, Mariia has been very enthusiastic in the undertaking of the tasks, in particular showing great interest in the development of the scheme for the Cambridge college. She joined me for the site visit, and has helped us develop our thinking, working hard to understand the local landscape context and how this can inform our proposals. This thinking has been communicated through beautifully executed sketches.

For all her hard work she has also been a great asset in the office environment. We have a longstanding tradition of making lunch for each other every day, and she made us all some delicious varenyky, which were a delight.

We've been very lucky to have had Mariia for this time, and commend her for any future work, whether it's with us or elsewhere.
